Transitional Defined

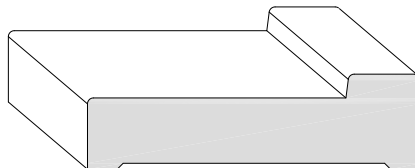

Trims

The Transitional trim line is Victoria's answer to the transitional home interior design. The concept of 'transitional' is often confused with step bevel trim, simple D4S, modern, etc. We'd like to show you our innovative approach to transitional homes.

Doors

The Transitional doors, also known as T-Series, are rare to find on the market and demand for the design is high. Victoria Strong has made efforts to provide a solution. The result is the T-Series line of doors and trim.

TRANSITIONAL

The Transitional Series is a thought-out creation that incorporates modern design elements, including clean, defined lines combined with aspects from more traditional homes to allow for the presence of a back-band, shoe mould, granting the possibility of a single-piece window ledge. Our innovation incorporates different aspects of trim design, creating something new, while maintaining traditional beauty.
